

Cases of Historical Interest In the Southern District of New York

United States v. Jones (“Lil’ Kim”)

Judge Gerard E. Lynch

On February 25, 2001, at least one person was seriously wounded in an exchange of gunfire outside of the Hot 97 radio station in Manhattan. Rapper Kimberly Jones, who performs as “Lil’ Kim,” was tried and convicted of conspiracy to commit perjury, perjury and false statements. She was sentenced to a year and a day of imprisonment.

United States v. Butler, 2004 WL 2274751 (S.D.N.Y Oct. 7, 2004)

225th Anniversary
1789-2014